Are you a Cancer Survivor?

Do you have Fatigue (tiredness)?

We are conducting a research study at Brigham and Women's Hospital

If you are: a man age 18-50, cancer survivor and have fatigue:

You could be eligible for a clinical research study involving testosterone replacement to improve fatigue, sexual function, muscle strength and quality of life.

Research supported by the National Institute of Health.

Study participants will undergo an extensive health evaluation, blood tests, muscle and fat measurement, and screening for various health conditions during the screening period.

The study involves approximately 8 visits to Brigham and Women's Hospital over a period of 9 months.

Eligible participants receive up to $700 in financial compensation, free parking & meal vouchers.
